Music and Your Child

Playing music can help your student in more ways than you may think. Did you know:

Music makes the brain grow - Research has shown that the part of the brain used to analyze music pitch is an average of 25% larger in musicians.

Music students score higher SAT scores - College bound seniors who had school music experience scored 52 points higher on the verbal SATs and 37 points higher in math than students without arts instruction.

Rhythm students learn fractions better - After learning eighth, quarter, half and whole notes, second and third graders scored 100% higher than their peer who were taught fractions using traditional methods.
